

HEALTH REFORM :

CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITY IN THE UNITED STATES & CHINA

Thursday, January 14, 2010

The General Motors Room, Horchow Hall, 55 Hillhouse Avenue
Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, USA

This workshop is made possible with support from the Council on East Asian Studies at Yale University, the Yale-China Association, and the United States Department of Education.

Health care reform is front and center of today's U.S. political stage. But many Americans don't realize China passed landmark health care reform legislation in March 2009 with the ambitious goal of implementing universal health care in three years. Join researchers and practitioners from China and the United States for an informed exploration comparing the two nations' health systems and proposed reforms, and to exchange ideas about how to move reform forward.

Evelyn A. Barnum - Community Health Center Association of Connecticut

Dan Callahan - The Hastings Center

Zemin Cao - The Third Xiangya Hospital, Central South University, Changsha, China

Deborah Davis - Yale University

Michael Gusmano - Department of Health Policy and Management, Mailman School of Public Health, Columbia University and School of Public Health, SUNY Downstate Medical Center

Selby Jacobs, M.D., M.P.H. - Yale University School of Medicine

Steven Latham - Interdisciplinary Center for Bioethics, Yale University

Elizabeth Magenheimer - Fair Haven Community Health Center

Lynn Price - Department of Nursing, Quinnipiac University

Robert Rosenheck - Yale University School of Medicine

Mark Schlesinger - Yale University School of Public Health

Michael Sernyak, M.D. - Yale University School of Medicine, The Connecticut Mental Health Center

David Smith - Interdisciplinary Center for Bioethics, Yale University

Hong Wang - Abt Associates Inc. and Yale University School of Public Health

Shuiyuan Xiao - School of Public Health, Xiangya Hospital Menatal Health Center and the Institute of Suicide Prevention, Central South University, Changsha, China

To REGISTER for this event, please contact the Yale-China Association at yale-china@yale.edu by 12:00 PM on Monday, January 11, 2010.

For more information, please visit www.yalechina.org and <http://eastasianstudies.research.yale.edu/>

